

ADVICE OF RIGHTS

- You have the right to remain silent about the facts and circumstances of your case. Anything you say can be used against you.
- You have the right to the assistance of an attorney at all stages of the proceedings including deciding how to plead to the charge(s).
- You have the right to a court-appointed attorney if you qualify and are indigent and cannot afford to hire an attorney without substantial hardship to you or your family.
- You have the right to a speedy and public trial by a jury of six members from the community who would decide whether you are guilty or not. (There is no jury for probation and contempt proceedings.)
- You have the right to confront and to question under oath (cross-examine) each witness called against you.
- You have the right to compel witnesses to come to court by subpoenas issued by the court clerk or by your attorney.
- You have the right to review and to obtain copies of the records written in your case.
- You have the right to appeal if you are found guilty and to have a new trial in Yamhill County Circuit Court. (Only limited appeal is available for contempt, probation proceedings, and a plea of guilty.)
- You are cautioned that if you are not a citizen, a conviction of a crime may result in deportation or exclusion from admission to the United States or denial of naturalization.
- If you're a service member or veteran, your status as such may make you eligible for treatment programs, diversion, specialty Courts or mitigated sentencing. You should consult a lawyer if you have questions regarding your eligibility.

Oregon State Bar's Lawyer Referral Service & Modest Means Program

(800) 452-7636